FINAL 8

24-29 NOVEMBER 2026, BOLOGNA

CORPORATE HOSPITALITY

Since 1900, the Davis Cup has been a cornerstone of the tennis calendar — the oldest annual international team competition in the sport. The inaugural edition saw the United States triumph over Great Britain, and since then, 16 nations have lifted the prestigious trophy donated by Dwight Davis.

For 125 years, the Davis Cup has brought nations together, inspired passion, and celebrated teamwork over individual glory — creating a unique connection between players and fans, fueled by national pride. With over 150 countries involved and matches played across 70 nations worldwide, the Davis Cup today stands as a true symbol of inclusivity.

The Davis Cup has always been the stage where the greatest tennis champions are crowned. Its roll of honour brings together the names that have shaped the history of the sport: from Rod Laver to Roger Federer, from Andre Agassi to Rafael Nadal, all the way to Jannik Sinner. It is here that talent becomes legend.

Within this constellation of extraordinary champions, Italy has carved out a starring role, achieving an unprecedented feat: three consecutive victories that elevate the nation into the Olympus of the Davis Cup. After the triumphs in Málaga in 2023 and 2024, the definitive consecration arrived in 2025, in front of the home crowd in Bologna. A victory that is more than a title—it is the seal on a historic cycle destined to remain etched in the memory of world tennis.

ITALY - WORLD CHAMPIONS

It is the team that dominated the most recent edition in Bologna. The team to beat. The reigning World Champion and the current No. 1 in the ITF rankings.
The victory over Spain in the 2025 final secured Italy's fourth Davis Cup title, following those won in 1976, 2023 and 2024.

Captain Filippo Volandri can count on a deep roster of champions, starting with Jannik Sinner and Lorenzo Musetti. Behind them stands a strong group of top-100 players, boasting one of the youngest average ages on the international circuit.

Italy will make its seasonal debut directly at the Finals, where it will defend the world title with the support of its home crowd — the same crowd that last year played a decisive role in the team's success and helped create a unique atmosphere for a sporting event.

Italy's recent past tells the story of a long-built success. The nation's first appearance in the Davis Cup dates back to 1922, and since then it has taken part in every edition of the competition, winning in 1976, 2023, 2024 and 2025, and reaching seven finals.
