Overview

Battirame 11 is an event venue set within a large urban garden featuring plants, handcrafted wooden furnishings, restored objects, and art installations. Complementing the garden is a 2,000 sqm regenerated and heated tensile structure, furnished with reclaimed materials and greenery.

Its culinary concept celebrates the richness of the local area through an innovative social catering project that uses self-produced or locally sourced seasonal ingredients to create bespoke, sustainable menus.

The venue also offers unique team-building experiences with workshops in glass, wood, ceramics, and plant cultivation.

Sustainability

Battirame 11 is much more than a venue; it is a social project that identifies the potential of people in difficulty and provides them with training. The catering offering prioritizes guests' health, featuring dishes made with home-produced ingredients. The service is plastic-free, with a strong focus on reducing food waste, promoting a circular consumption model that respects natural resources, following the principle of "more flavor, fewer emissions."
